

Politics Colloquium

Department of Politics and International Relations—University of Oxford

Organizers: Prof. Giovanni Capoccia; Dr Matthias Dilling; Dr Melis Laebens

Hilary Term 2022, weeks 1-8, Fridays 4pm GMT on Zoom

(Zoom link circulated separately)

January 21, week 1: Prof. Tamila Lankina (LSE) “The Estate Origins of Democracy in Russia: From Imperial Bourgeoisie to Post-Communist Middle-Class”
Discussant: Nicholas James (Oxford)

January 28, week 2: Prof. Jan Rovny (Sciences Po Paris) “Circumstantial Liberals: Ethnic Minorities, Political Competition, and Democracy”
Discussant: Nico Buettner (Oxford)

February 4, week 3: Prof. Dominik Hangartner (ETH Zurich) “Online Hate Speech and How to Counter It”
Discussant: Arun Frey (Oxford)

February 11, week 4: Dr. Jorge Mangonnet (Oxford) “How Emancipation Drives Property Rights: Theory and Evidence from Imperial Brazil”
Discussant: Andres Guiot-Isaac (Oxford)

February 18, week 5: Prof. Isabela Mares (Yale) “Democratization after Democratization: how first wave democracies ended electoral corruption”
Discussant: Marcin Walecki (Oxford)

February 25, week 6: Dr. Katerina Tcakova (Oxford) “Conflict Shapes in Flux: A Typology of Spatial Change in Armed Conflict”
Discussant: Maria Gargiulo (Oxford)

March 4, week 7: Prof. Daniele Caramani (EUI Florence) “The Challenges to Representative Democracy: Populism, Technocracy and Political Pluralism”
Discussant: Zack Grant (Oxford)

March 11, week 8: Prof. Bálint Magyar (CEU) “Post-Communist Regime Trajectories --A Challenge to the Mainstream Comparative Approach”
Discussant: Eli Gateva (Oxford)