

Politics Colloquium

Department of Politics and International Relations—University of Oxford

Organizers: Prof. Giovanni Capoccia, Dr. Mariana Borges, Dr. Matthias Dilling, Dr. Carl Müller-Crepon

Hilary Term 2021, weeks 1-8, Fridays 4pm

January 22, week 1: Prof. Yuhua Wang (Harvard), “Elite Kinship Network and State-Building Preferences in Imperial China”.

Discussant: Guillermo Kreiman (Oxford)

January 29, week 2: Prof. Amel Ahmed (University of Massachusetts, Amherst), “Institutional Sequencing and Regime Stability: The Case of Germany, 1871-1933”.

Discussant: Valerie Belu (Oxford)

February 5, week 3: Prof. Dawn Teele (University of Pennsylvania), “Gender and the Impact of Proportional Representation: A Comment on the Peripheral Voting Thesis”

Discussant: Marta Antonetti (Oxford)

February 12, week 4: Prof. David Bateman (Cornell), “Deeper Roots: Historical Causal Inference and the Political Legacy of Slavery”.

Discussant: Jorge Mangonnet (Oxford)

February 19, week 5: Prof. Michael Bernhard (University of Florida), “Party System Institutionalization and Stability in Competitive Authoritarian Regimes”.

Discussant: Caterina Leao (Oxford)

February 26, week 6: Prof. Sally Nuamah (Northwestern), “The punishment against black girls and women and its political consequences”.

Discussant: Elizabeth Pfeffer (Oxford)

March 5, week 7: Prof. Rocio Titiunik (Princeton), “Parties as Disciplinarians: Charisma and Commitment Problems in Programmatic Campaigning”.

Discussant: Spyros Kosmidis (Oxford)

March 12, week 8: Prof. Mai Hassan (Michigan), “Closing the Gap: The Politics of Property Rights in Kenya”.

Discussant: Nicolas Lippolis (Oxford)